Hi Steve, thank you for the guidance.

I attended this convening as planned.

On Tuesday, October 25, 2022, I flew to Washington, DC.

On Wednesday, October 26, I attended a one day convening of the PJM Cities and Communities Coalition, a group of cities located on the same electricity grid, PJM, that advocate for clean, equitable grid policies by the grid operator. We gathered at the offices of the World Resources Institute, who provide administrative support for the work of the grant-funded Coalition. We also presented to and visited the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

On Thursday, October 27, I flew back to Chicago.

The Coalition, through WRI, booked and paid for my roundtrip flight. The Coalition provided light breakfast and lunch. I covered all other expenses myself such as lodging and local transportation.

Thanks
Jared
