I wanted to report to the Ethics Department the following.

I have been invited to appear on a panel of five individuals on March 30, 2012 at a meeting of the MCHC. (please see invitation below)

The organization sponsor is providing an honorarium of $250.00 per panelist for the event.

Subject: Fwd: GBLT Health Training Program Dates

Pamela, Shane, and Tanya: The date for the training workshop is now firm: Friday, March 30, from 9 a.m to 12:00 noon. As I mentioned before, it will take place at MCHC's location near Union Station in the Loop. Dawn Niedner, our contact person, has indicated that MCHC will be in a position to offer you each an honorarium of $250.00. I am copying her with this email so she will have your email addresses. I suggest that you email her (and copy me) with your mailing addresses and preferred phone (probably cell is available) so she has the contact info she will eventually need. I will prepare some prose for her to use in creating an announcement about this and I will create an outline for us to chew over and send it to all for comment, but I will not do that before the week of Feb 6 (too many other deadlines this week).

The fifth person on the panel besides us four will be Rob Humrickhouse from Mt. Sinai Hospital. Dawn reports that:

Rob is Assistant Vice-President, Graduate Medical Education, Accreditation Services, Chief Safety Officer at Mount Sinai Hospital (phone: (773) 257-2172, email: robert.humrickhouse@sinai.org). So in addition to his perspective as a gay man, he brings the perspective of hospital administration. Rob requested that the agenda include time for him to speak to upcoming hospital accreditation requirements and the regulatory issues associated with these requirements that relate to the hospital care of the GBLT population.

Please confirm and, of course, let me know ASAP if something has now made that date/time a problem for you. Thanks ! -- Dave
