Subject: Events I have and will attend

Steve,

Here is information on several events I attended - one that I will attend. I apologize for the late notice on several. All are directly related to my job.

1. I was staffing the Mayor on Monday at the Holocaust luncheon and didn't realize I was actually staying for lunch. here is the link to the website:

It costs $250 and I did not pay.

The organization comped seats for the Mayor and myself, as she was speaking.

No relative received the same gift

2. I will be staffing the Mayor at the Streetwise annual fundraising dinner with the Mayor, if she goes. If she doesn't go, I will represent her.

The lead sponsoring organization of the event - the Kadens Family Foundation will be comping the ticket.

Ticket value is $275

No relative will be attending with me.

On 9/26, I will be the guest of Liza Yntema at a Fortnighly luncheon. She will be presenting on the changing world of philanthropy. I don't know the value of the lunch, but could ask if you need the dollar amount.

Here are two more - that on reflection, I probably should have told you about in advance. My apologies.

On Tuesday night I attended a reception in honor of Sybil Madison, hosted by the Joyce Foundation and a Better Chicago. This was for the foundation leadership to meet Sybil. I don't know the value of the event, as it was a cocktail reception - by invitation only. No fee was charged. It was drinks and appetizers. No relative attended with me.

On August 29th, I attended the Mayor's State of the City address. I went to the City Club reception afterwards. They did not charge, so I do not know the value. My husband was also in attendance in his professional capacity, not as my spouse. His name is Brian Fabes and he runs the Civic Consulting Alliance.

Please let me know if you have any questions.
