Good morning,

I am circling back to close the loop on the email request for the event that took place Sunday, November 12, 2023. Refreshments were offered during the Queens Care event.

Thank you and have a terrific Tuesday!

Subject: Quick Question :)

Hello,

I was asked to give a brief presentation pertaining to Mental Health resources on Sunday, November 12th. The agency hosting the event informed me that they would like to give me an honorarium for my participation. I have never accepted an honorarium or a stipend for anything presentations or trainings since I have been employed as a City of Chicago employee. Is it permissible to accept an honorarium? I informed the that I could not receive one and decided to send you an email for an additional confirmation.

Thank you in advance.
